News in brief

Paying fare on city transit to get easier

AUTOMATED. Winnipeg Transit is finally making it easier to pay for your fare, rather than scrounging for change in your couch.

Automated bus fare boxes will arrive in 2013, said Winnipeg Transit director Dave Wardrop.

The new machines will allow you to load a smart card with money online or at a kiosk. Or for those who still wish to pay cash, transit will make sure you've put in the right amount.

The plan has been in the works for about five years. ELISHA DACEY

BRT plan changes again

ROUTE. Council is now considering running the second phase of the much-anticipated Bus Rapid Transit line through several south Winnipeg neighbourhoods instead of alongside Pembina Highway.

The new line would instead run around the Parker, Maybank and Beaumont neighbourhoods in Fort Garry.

Mayor Sam Katz said he has not seen a formal plan for the new line, but is aware of the idea. ELISHA DACEY

Big Top Fringe picks and pans

Bursting Into Flames
I remember reading about a study a while back that suggested that having too much choice — like an aisle full of cereals to choose from — actually makes us less happy. That paradox — that by having more, we feel worse — comes across in Martin Dockery's spectacular monologue, which suggests that even Heaven may not be so heavenly. That's what we discover in this story, as our unnamed hero tells us the story of his afterlife. Martin Dockery absolutely burns down the house with Bursting Into Flames.

Raven Causes Mischief
Every culture has a trickster — whether it's coyote or rabbit or Charlie Chaplin. For the Haida of northwestern B.C., it's Raven. And here, Roberta Kennedy (whose Haida name is Kung Jaadaa) brings stories of how Raven created the world, brought 'the two-leggeds' the sun and moon, and brought about the creation of Moon Woman. Kung Jaadaa delivers the stories with a calm seriousness that gives them gravity, but also keeps her audience at a bit of a distance. And while she smartly wraps her show up at 35 minutes, it's a shame Kung Jaadaa saves the show's most powerful moment — explaining her personal connection with Raven — until the end. As it is, her Raven stories can make for quiet, reflective Fringe fare — but may also test the attention span of fidgety Fringers.
JOFF SCHMIDT/CBC REVIEW CREW

Oh, That Wily Snake!
This show is — like a flying mattress — a weird ride. Unfortunately, like a flying mattress, it ultimately crashes. I bring up the flying mattress because it's a key element in this expressionist retelling of the Garden of Eden story. And watching characters argue in a dream isn't particularly more interesting than watching them argue in a more grounded setting. It's a bold experiment, particularly for a writer like Dockery, who has had great success with solo shows. But Wily Snake is not the most tempting fruit on the Fringe tree.

Gang crackdown won't compromise core operations, according to police

The core public-safety mission of the Winnipeg Police Service won't be hampered as officers are moved around in an effort to clamp down on the biker-gang war, police pledged yesterday.

"The everyday operation of the service is not being compromised in any way, shape or form," said spokesman Const. Jason Michalyshen.

Officers across several key units of the force are being shuffled to try and resolve the conflict between the Rock Machine and the Hells Angels-affiliated Redlined Support Crew.

Over a month, police have identified 13 outbursts of violence they believe stem from the clash. Asked if investigations unrelated to the biker conflict would be hampered, Michalyshen said supervisors are tasked with deciding how best to use resources.

"Some things may have to be put on the back burner, some things may not," he conceded.

Arrests have been made in two of the 13 incidents.

Two men police identified as gang associates have been charged with arson-related crimes and held at the Winnipeg Remand Centre.

Officers arrested the suspects early Wednesday, shortly after firebombs crashed through the front door of an Osborne Village tattoo shop. "There were officers in the area at the time of the incident," Michalyshen said.

He declined to discuss police tactics further. "That would certainly defeat the purpose," he said.

Taylor Morrison, 23, and Shaine Stodgell, 33, are in custody.

Police said Stodgell also faces an arson charge in connection to another incident at an auto dealership on St. Mary's Road last Sunday. ● JAMES TURNER

We're not mosquito capital

We're not the murder capital, either ◐ But don't worry — we're still the Slurpee capital of the world

Winnipeg is getting a run for its money this year as the mosquito capital of Canada.

The latest mosquito trap count in Edmonton has hit 30 per night. In Winnipeg, the count is nine and holding.

High numbers of bloodsuckers have been pestering Edmontonians for weeks, and the population is expected to climb after recent heavy rain.

Officials in Edmonton are considering spot spraying at some summer festival sites to control mosquitoes.

Taz Stuart, entomologist with the City of Winnipeg, said Thursday that since trap counts are low, there is no fogging being contemplated here, even though the second week in July is usually when fogging begins.

He said Winnipeg is winning the mosquito war thanks to the stepped-up larviciding program and the co-operative weather, although he warned that a few days of rain could change everything.

Extremely hot temperatures and a chance of thunderstorms are forecast for this weekend.

As an aside, Edmonton is also the murder capital of Canada, with 28 homicides so far this year, the highest per capita in the country.

Determined Filipino family ignores skeptics to succeed in Canada

When Erick Alfonso meets immigrants who feel overwhelmed, he gives them hope by telling his own family's story. In fact, the Manila native and his wife achieved personal success in a remarkably short time, by ignoring skeptics who scoffed at their Canadian dreams.

Now working as a Manager of Customer Service at Scotiabank in Calgary, Alberta, Erick remembers how friends discouraged them from migrating to Canada with their five young children.

"They told us that you need Canadian experience to find a job," recalls the former IT project manager at a Philippine bank. "But we decided to try because we knew it was a good country to raise our kids."

Upon arrival in Canada in 2006, the Alfonsos discovered that many Filipino compatriots were juggling low paying jobs to survive. While Erick also took a temporary factory job to pay the bills, he refused to give up hope.

"A friend told me to open my first bank account at Scotiabank, and the teller was so helpful that I decided to submit my resumé," recounts Erick. To his amazement, the branch manager hired him within a month as a casual teller, and two months later, gave him a full-time customer support role.

"I was lucky that Scotiabank gave me the chance to prove myself," notes Erick, who has risen through the ranks and now serves many Asian customers at Calgary's Castleridge Centre Branch. "I can relate to them because I remember arriving with no bank account and no permanent address. The Scotiabanker explained everything to me, and I try to do the same for others today."

For example, Erick recommends the Scotiabank StartRight® Program[1] for Newcomers, which includes a free day-to-day bank account for one year[2], a wide range of VISA* card options[3] and a number of other customized services and benefits. He also provides plenty of first-hand financial advice.

"Since many newcomers arrive with personal savings, I help them invest their savings wisely, including short-term investments such as a Tax-Free Savings Account (TFSA), which lets them earn tax-free income that they can access later for other needs," says Erick.

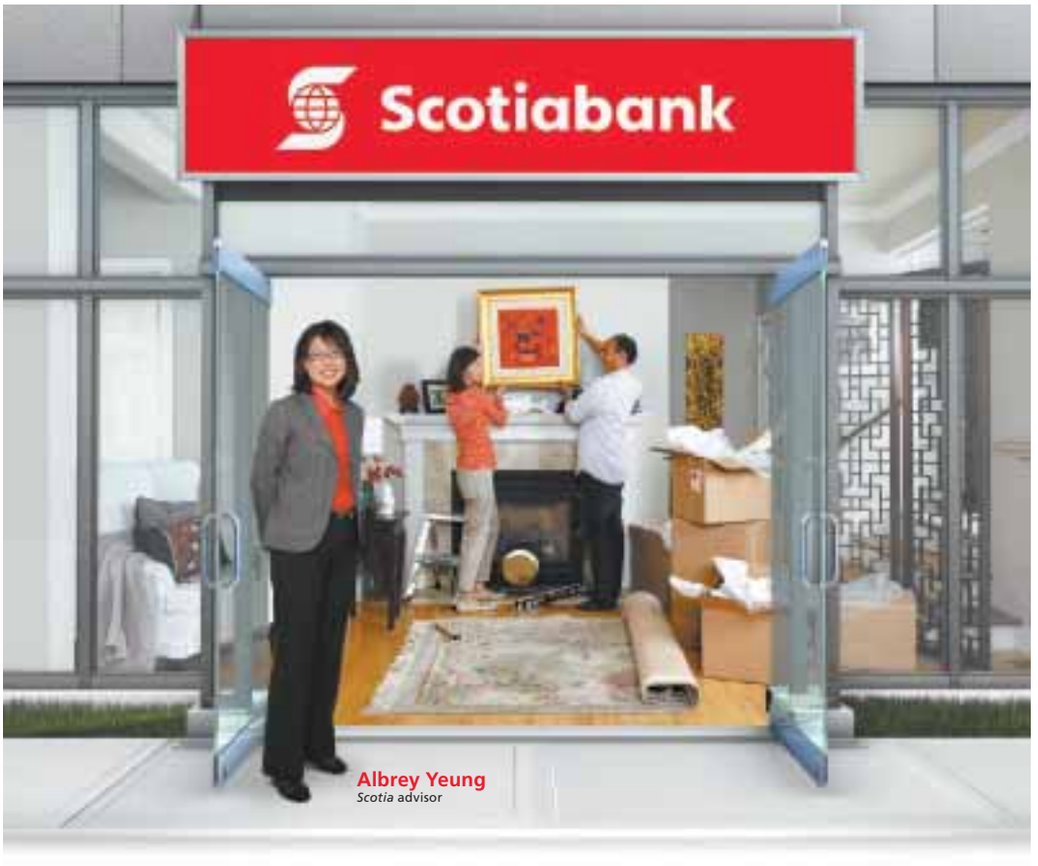
He also explains the importance of building a Canadian credit history. "Some newcomers are afraid to use a credit card, but I tell them how it can help them achieve other goals if they use it responsibly."

Erick also gives pep talks on job searches, based on his experience and that of his wife, Maria Rosario, who within a year moved from a temporary accounting job to accounting manager with a local firm.

"We didn't do anything special, but we were determined. By believing in ourselves and supporting each other, we got through each difficulty," says Erick. "It is possible – If you show what you can do, you can build the right connections and open the door to a new life in Canada."

THIS ADVERTORIAL IS PREPARED BY SCOTIABANK.

Now established as a Scotiabank Manager, Erick Alfonso welcomes other new Canadians to his branch.



"Albrey helped open the door to our new home in Canada."

Taking a close look at potential Jets logos submitted by fans

Despite rumours that the Winnipeg Jets' new logo would be revealed this week, MTS Centre director Scott Brown confirmed it's not happening anytime soon. Brown also said he doesn't know when the logo will be revealed, but that hasn't stopped designers from flying in their submissions. Here's what Winnipeggers and Metro graphic designer Kyle Dratowany say is the best fit. CRYSTAL LADERAS

FRASER DAVIDSON AND BRIAN GUNDELL

Metro graphic designer Kyle Dratowany:
I'm not crazy about the use of the maple leaf, necessarily — just with Winnipeg being so close to Toronto and them using the maple leaf. We don't have to yell Canada on everything just because we're Canadian.

No one liked this logo. People thought it wasn't enough "Go Jets go" and too much "Team Canada."

JOHNNY GRISWOLD

Kyle:
I like the general shape and how they're playing off some of the old elements with the jet and the circle. I'm not crazy about the Esplanade Riel … but it does incorporate the name into the logo.

Chris Butt, 25, Garden City:
It kinda resembles the old style. Let's just keep it the original. Let's go back to 1996. Let's just do that.

DAVE DELISLE

Kyle:
I actually like this one quite a bit because it has that retro look to it, using the same jet and the red circle. Everything is symmetrical.… I kind of like how they incorporated the W shape.

Sean Leggett, 25, West Kildonan
I like the jetstream W. It reminds me of a jet, the way that it's coming down like that. I think it's got a couple real cool designs in it and it represents Winnipeg.

JACOB WEBSTER

Kyle:
I really like the more illustrated style of this. The sharp lines of the jet, it looks more modern and fits in with the current NHL logo and the type is handled really well. The colours I'm not crazy about.

Darron Field, 46, St. Boniface.
It's aggressive. It's a different colour scheme.… The funny thing is that none of these planes fly here. They should have a Herc or something. That kind of looks like an F-15.

'There's ample parking': U of M

7,100 planned stalls not expected to accommodate 33,000-seat stadium

CRYSTAL LADERAS
WINNIPEG@METRONEWS.CA

Officials with the University of Manitoba say they don't understand the current brouhaha over parking near the new Winnipeg Blue Bombers stadium — they're planning to open up thousands of spots to Bomber fans.

"There's ample parking," said U of M spokesman John Danakas. "There's construction going on on the campus, so the number of parking stalls does vary, but we have upwards of 6,000 stalls available."

This is in addition to the already 7,100 stalls that will be built or are nearby in surrounding neighbourhoods.

RAYMOND S C WAN ARCHITECT INC.

▶ An artist's rendering of the new stadium.

Danakas said the U of M is in negotiations with the Bombers and other campus partners to open up the campus' extra parking spots on game days.

"We're in discussions with the football club, who are the experts on what kind of parking would be necessary on football games," said Danakas, adding they're talking about which stalls they will make available.

But that doesn't mean students and staff would be out of a parking spot. "We certainly would want a certain amount of parking available for people who are visiting the university," said Danakas.

The plan comes after the city asked surrounding businesses to open up their parking lots to football fans.

A City of Winnipeg community committee accepted a traffic-control plan from developers that recommends reserving parking stalls for carpoolers, building bicycle stalls and creating extra bus stops and routes for game days.

JEFF MCINTOSH/THE CANADIAN PRESS

Bullfighters take the beast by the horns

These two bullfighters don't wear helmets Among their occupational hazards: Broken hands and arms from contact with the bull's head, broken feet and toes from being stepped on by hooves the size of pie plates

Don't call them rodeo clowns or say they're crazy.

Scott Byrne and cousin Jesse Byrne are bullfighters at the Calgary Stampede, and not the Spanish kind that wear sequins and swing a cape at a bull.

When a bull rider gets thrown from a snorting, leaping bull that weighs over a ton, their work begins. They distract the animal and draw the beast's attention away from the cowboy so the vulnerable human has time to get away from those swinging horns.

"I get the question quite often, 'Are you crazy?'" says Scott. "We're not crazy. We're just guys that chose a profession that's a little on the edge.

"Crazy to me is someone jumping in a race car and going 200 miles per hour around a race track 500 times."

They're routinely and mistakenly called "rodeo clowns." There is a rodeo clown on the arena infield who entertains the crowd during down time. Bullfighters in the past have worn makeup and baggy pants, which has contributed to their misidentification.

"Now we wear jerseys and no makeup. We're trying to define it now," Scott explains. "A lot of people will ask what you do and you say you're a bullfighter and they just don't get it. You just say 'clown' and they get it and then you explain we have nothing to do with being funny.

"How many times have I been hit with a horn? Man, I don't know. A lot.... There isn't a day that goes by when you haven't come in contact with a bull."
SCOTT BYRNE, BULLFIGHTER

"It's our job to protect cowboys and make sure they can go ride safely the next day."

Added Jesse: "There's nothing wrong with being called a clown, but I don't think there's anything funny about what we're doing."

The Byrnes and David Sandiland work as a three-man team at the Stampede to divert the bull once the rider hits the infield turf.

Thankfully, bulls don't seem to have a long attention span. Quick movements combined with a holler, clap or whistle can be enough to cause the animal to lose interest in the cowboy.

If the cowboy lands awkwardly and can't quickly get away and the bull decides to exact revenge, then the bullfighter tries to get between the pursuer and the pursued.

"Essentially, we're just getting their attention so whatever works, but there has to be a system to it with the three of us working in the arena together," Jesse explains. "It's all basically angles and timing."

- Pat on the back. The bullfighters get a nod or pat on the back from a cowboy after they've helped him get out of trouble.
- Voting for the best. The ultimate validation is when the Top 15 riders in Canada vote for the bullfighters they want at the Canadian Finals Rodeo each year.
- Career. Bullfighter Scott Byrne has worked at the CFR nine times in his career while cousin Jesse Byrne has been there three times.

DISSIDENT SPEAKS OUT

AI WEIWEI: 'MY ART WILL NEVER CHANGE'

PETER MACDIARMID/GETTY IMAGES

▶ Ai Weiwei

One of China's leading dissidents, artist Ai Weiwei, has accepted a teaching post at a top German university. But he fears he won't be allowed to leave China.

Ai, 54, was released from jail in China in June after sentencing in April for "suspected economic crimes." He is under house arrest.

How long is your new job contract?

If I remember correctly, it is an assignment as a teacher at Berlin University of the Arts for three years.

Why did you accept this new role?

After 81 days put away, I was happy to accept. It's important to do something for teaching.

Describe your life now.

My passport has been taken away. I am not allowed to leave Beijing. I have to report to the police before I go shopping or to a restaurant.

Has it affected your art?

My art will never change. It is deep in my bones. But it has made many things clearer. I have been working in the direction of freedom of expression.

It's tough at the top — ask an alpha baboon

▶ Oh, sure, when you're a top baboon, you get the best food and the best girl baboons. But you have to fight a lot.

Those wielding power and influence are more likely to lead a "stressful" life, according to new U.S.-based research on wild baboons.

Researchers at Princeton University discovered that alpha males among the wild yellow baboons of Kenya's Amboseli Basin have higher levels of glucocorticoid, a stress hormone, as well as testosterone.

"We found that alpha male baboons exhibit much higher stress hormone levels than beta (second-ranking) males, indicating that being at the very top of a social hierarchy may be more costly than previously thought," lead author Laurence Gesquiere told Metro.

The study is based on the examination of fecal samples from 125 adult baboons over a nine-year period.

The baboons' high stress levels are most likely due to the energy they are forced to exert just to maintain their social position, Gesquiere added, with alpha males being more prone to fighting and protecting their mate, as opposed to beta males.

Guergis violated ethics code, says watchdog

DARREN CALABRESE/THE CANADIAN PRESS

▶ Helena Guergis fought to clear her name after being kicked out of the Tory caucus. The RCMP cleared her of any wrongdoing.

The federal ethics watchdog has found former Ontario MP Helena Guergis broke conflict-of-interest rules, acting in a way that would further the financial interests of her husband Rahim Jaffer.

Conflict of Interest and Ethics Commissioner Mary Dawson says Guergis contravened the MPs' code when she wrote a letter in 2009 to municipal politicians in her riding.

Guergis lost her re-election bid in Simcoe-Grey in the May 2 federal election..

Guergis, a Conservative MP at the time, asked her town council to consider a pitch by businessman Jim Wright on a waste-management project. Problem was, her husband had been dealing with Wright.

"I determined that Mr. Jaffer was building a business relationship with Mr. Wright during the period when Ms. Guergis prepared and sent the letter to Simcoe County officials,'' Dawson says in her report.

Dawson finds that Guergis violated a section of the MPs' code that deals with furthering the private interests of a family member, and another that says MPs cannot use their position to influence a decision that might benefit family.

Dawson says she experienced long delays in getting documents she requested from Guergis.

'Harris-like' layoffs jolt union

Public-sector workers in Ontario got 274 pink slips Thursday, the first in what their union is calling the "biggest wave of layoffs since the Mike Harris era."

The Ontario Public Service Employees Union expects 1,900 jobs cuts between now and March.

The cuts mean the province will stop verifying local social assistance distribution, reduce staffing that monitors collection agencies, and lay off 57 people with technical expertise in the areas of water safety and air quality.

Union president Warren (Smokey) Thomas says the Harris era should have taught the province that public cuts hurt everyone. Premier Dalton McGuinty, he says, was elected to "turn the page on eight years of destructive cuts" — not make the same mistakes.

Ridetime.ca announces CREDIT AMNESTY 2011

Guaranteed Credit Approvals No Matter what your Credit Score or History

WINNIPEG - MANITOBA

The downturn in the economy has affected most people and their ability to get a car and automotive credit. Credit agencies have become very critical with credit scores and many lenders have significantly changed the criteria for someone to quality for an auto loan. Many car shoppers today are being turned down because of their credit history. Credit Amnesty 2011 has signed an agreement with a CREDIT TO ANYONE REGARDLESS OF CREDIT SCORE. Every and any past credit problem will be accepted and approved regardless of bankruptcy, divorce, tax liens, judgements, vehicle repossessions and charge offs.

Bank Authorized Processors On Site for Instant Approvals

The management and finance staff of Credit Amnesty 2011 were flown to Toronto and trained to be lending representatives for a national leader who has been lending to credit challenged consumers in an effort to give consumers the opportunity to re-establish their credit one payment at a time.

Credit Amnesty 2011 will now deliver credit approvals to every consumer they enter into the patented Credit Approval Processing System within 60 seconds.

Doug MacIver, General Manager at Credit Amnesty 2011 proudly says, "we provide opportunity where others can't."

Life Changing Program

Without our product, consumers are often unable to purchase a vehicle or they purchase an unreliable one and are not provided the opportunity to improve their credit standing. As we report to all major financial national credit reporting agencies, a significant number of our customers improve their lives by improving their credit score and move on to more traditional sources of financing.

We have the late model vehicles people want and the ones that will qualify for this type of funding. The only thing that will affect your ability not to be approved is no down payment. And with that being said we are not here to put someone in a car that does not match their ability to pay, we want this to be a successful process that will allow those with credit problems to rebuild their lives. I know they will benefit from this program and they will always come back to us to buy a car.

From what we were told in Toronto, business starts coming in from referrals, from our own customers who find out this program is for real. They usually tell all their family and friends about it. "This is a once in a lifetime opportunity for someone to come in to us and drive home a nice car and rebuild their credit," adds Doug.

Our staff has even told their families and friends to come down and we've notified some local companies and their employees to come down as well to take advantage of these great opportunities to rebuild your credit.

CAR proof HISTORY REPORTS are available on every vehicle. You can drive home with confidence that you know what you are buying. If I were in the market for a quality pre-owned certified vehicle, I would definitely come down early for the best selection."

EVERYONE APPROVED!

With our patented finance program, purchasing your vehicle is hassle free. Most people have credit issues! At Ride Time... "THAT'S WATER UNDER THE BRIDGE!" No co-signer required.

Your Trade is Your Down Payment

Wholesale representatives will be on hand to give anyone top dollar for their trade for down payment funds.

Wholesalers have been authorized to offer very liberal trade-in allowances so that each person who needs a down payment has one. This is a perfect opportunity to trade in and trade up and rebuild your credit. Trades can be made to lower your monthly payments. Your trade will be your down payment. In most cases you can just sign and drive with a trade. Just bring your vehicle registration and payment book, and Credit Amnesty 2011 will make the deal happen for you.

Video by Dugard's captors released

Footage highlights mistakes made in detecting sexual predators NASA technicians were able to recover video from damaged tapes found in trash

Prosecutors have released videos recorded by the Northern California couple who abducted Jaycee Dugard and held her captive for nearly two decades, including footage of one of dozens of home searches by a parole officer that never found the kidnapped girl.

The videos recorded by Dugard's abductors, Phillip and Nancy Garrido, also provide chilling details about the two and their outings to stealthily shoot footage of young girls.

Three video clips were among several pieces of evidence released Tuesday by El Dorado County prosecutors "to highlight the gravity and severity of the mistakes made," and to improve the supervision and detection of sexual predators.

The video of a parole officer's visit shows yet again how the state botched chances to find Dugard as she was kept hidden for 18 years in the backyard of the couple's home in Antioch, North Carolina.

Throughout the years, parole officers had paid dozens of visits to the home to check on Phillip Garrido and give him drug tests, but none of the officials reported any irregularities.

The video, first aired Sunday by ABC News, was taken by Nancy Garrido between 2000 and 2007.

Online predator gets two years

After preying on 285 young girls and getting them to take off their clothes in front of their computer, a convicted cyber-predator received his sentence today: two years in prison.

Philippe Truchon, who used Facebook and chat sites to convince adolescent girls to take off their clothes, was handed that penalty at the Montreal courthouse. The sentence was far more lenient than the five years Crown prosecutors has asked for.

Judge Isabelle Rheault called Truchon a manipulator and a liar — but her ruling took into account a pre-sentencing report that said therapy might help him. THE CANADIAN PRESS

New hope for U.S. debt-ceiling deal?

Senate leaders discuss fallback plan as crisis talks continue Same day Wall Street warns of catastrophe

The top Democrat and Republican in the U.S. Senate are constructing a legislative detour for President Barack Obama, a path around the bitter partisan divide over raising the American debt limit and avoiding a U.S. default on its spiralling debt.

Sen. Harry Reid, the Democratic majority leader, and Sen. Mitch McConnell, the top Republican, are at work on a legislative manoeuvre that would give Obama the power to raise the debt limit unilaterally.

That would sidestep the seemingly intractable impasse in White House talks that have failed now in five sessions to find an agreement with Republicans in the House of Representatives who are demanding dramatic spending cuts but are refusing Obama's insistence that tax loopholes also be closed to raise federal income. Obama's Treasury Department has said Aug. 2 is the deadline for raising the debt limit to forestall an unprecedented American default on obligations at home and abroad.

The Reid-McConnell plan would leave the sharply polarized Congress to legislate whatever spending cuts it could muster.

Obama will hold a news conference Friday to address the status of negotiations, his second of the week on a subject that has consumed Washington as the deadline approaches.

The United States hit its current $14.3-trillion debt ceiling in May and has been able to juggle the books through the end of July to stay current on its debt payments and obligations to domestic programs. Come Aug. 2, however, various administration officials have suggested members of the U.S. military might go without pay as would Americans dependent on monthly payments from Social Security, the federal pension system for retired people.

Washington likewise could find itself unable to pay outstanding interest and principle on Treasury bonds, widely held by Americans, international investors and countries around the globe.

Word that Democrat Reid and Republican McConnell were at work on a compromise fallback plan came as Federal Reserve Chairman Ben Bernanke and JPMorgan Chase & Co. CEO Jamie Dimon admonished bickering lawmakers that failure to avoid an unprecedented default could have a devastating effect on an already-anemic economy. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

1 The flipside: Recent years have been riddled with political unrest, ecological catastrophes and trends of increasing inhumanity, and there are still millions without the most basic nourishment and shelter. Consequently, the new Harry Potter movie already has $32 million in advance ticket sales, but to put things into perspective... it's in 3-D.

2 Cotton-eyed Joes: It's Calgary Stampede time again, and everyone's flocking to Southern Alberta for some rodeo, clogging and deep-fried culinary concoctions. Take that, America. You're not the only ones with crazy cowboys and country music.

3 Goliath falls ... on his wallet: One of my favourite '80s comedies is Trading Places. Specifically, when Eddy Murphy and Dan Aykroyd bankrupt their ruthless employers, The Dukes. Recognition of this Karmic retribution sends the Dukes into a meltdown, turning on each other and everyone who once feared and revered them, as one collapses into cardiac arrest, while the other, frothing at the mouth, commences a stroke, yelling, "How could they do this to us? We're ruined!" Anyone else thinking of Rupert Murdoch right now?

4 Need a P?: Lindsay Lohan stood proud last week as the results of her drug tests finally came back negative. Yay! Tests also revealed that she has the healthy testicles of a 12-year-old Mexican boy.

5 Berry picking: I am forbidden from commenting due to my own personal history with Halle, but I will say this: What kind of world do we live in when a writer can't enjoy a peaceful dinner in a tree outside a celebrity's window with binoculars and a camcorder, without her getting all creeped out? Geez. Get over yourself, lady.

6 Canada's got imagination: Ever notice that none of the judges on America's Got Talent are actually American? I mean, if they "got talent," how come they don't "got judges"? In any case, whenever the U.S. has a hit, Canada likes to have its own, less profitable version, hence Citytv's presentation of Canada's Got Talent. CGT will hold auditions this fall for illusionists, acrobats, ventriloquists, rejects from Canadian Idol and So You Think You Can Dance, or anyone who enjoys repeated public disgrace.

7 NKOTBSB: Acronym for the tasteless combination of two exceptionally ripened retro-boybands peddling their respective brands of nostalgic mediocrity to recently divorced mothers reliving a time when their waistlines were favourably offset by the disproportionate dimensions of their hair and shoulders. (New Kids on the Block/Backstreet Boys — now on tour.)

8 Sudan-ly I see: After decades of unrest, South Sudan finally achieved independence on July 9th. The new government must now rise to the challenge of providing necessities for its citizens. Immediate concerns include clean water, roads, schools, currency, Starbucks and a Walmart. Vaya con dios, fellow citizens.

GAGGED. Even one of online video's biggest stars isn't immune to copyright claims.

Lady Gaga's YouTube account was suspended Thursday. The notice read that the suspension was due to "multiple or severe violations of YouTube's copyright policy."

The Google Inc.-owned YouTube declined to comment. It's YouTube policy to remove accounts after three copyright violations, though they can be restored after being corrected.

Reports have suggested that the infringing video was a recently uploaded clip of Gaga's performance on Fuji TV.

The account, "ladygagaofficial," is one of two for Gaga. The removed channel is run by Gaga's camp, while she also has an unaffected Vevo account.

The Vevo account, which has more than 1.6 billion views, generally debuts her music videos. Co-owned by Universal Music Group and Sony Entertainment, Vevo is a music-video platform that also distributes videos on YouTube.

The suspension is expected to be temporary.

Replace the gym with 20 litres of wine

Scientists have discovered that resveratrol, a natural substance found in grapes and wine can reverse the negative effects of zero gravity in rats.

Why should you care if you are not an astronaut?

"We feel the resveratrol would be a good way to prevent the effects of physical inactivity for people who cannot undergo regular activity," Dr. Stéphane Blanc said.

For the experiment, two groups of rats were suspended by their tails, to create the effect of zero gravity. One group was given daily 400-milligram-per-kilogram supplements of resveratrol, the others were given nothing.

The scientists initially tested the rats to see whether the resveratrol was able to prevent loss of muscle mass. It was. They then looked at its effect on muscle metabolism. It was positive. After further tests the team found the same dosage of resveratrol had positive effects on bone density and insulin resistance, a cause of diabetes.

According to Blanc, the average person would have to drink 20 litres of wine for the equivalent of one reservatrol supplement given to the rats.

Best Potter movie yet

Richard Crouse and Phil Brown agree the franchise finale is completely satisfying ◐ Creepy villains Ralph Fiennes, Alan Rickman steal the show

Reel Guys
RICHARD CROUSE & MARK BRESLIN
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Richard Crouse: Mark, the decision to break the final Potter book into two movies was criticized as a money grab, just a cheap way to get a few extra dollars out of Potterheads before the franchise ends. But I have to tell you I think they made the right move. The movie is completely satisfying, with a well told story and great action scenes. What did you think?

Mark Breslin: Yes, Richard, you're right. The movie is completely satisfying. But I think it's at the expense of the movie that preceded it, which I found inert and talky; the worst of the franchise. But this one felt like a thrilling send-off to characters we've grown to love, with some great action set pieces thrown in for good measure.

RC: This is as close to an all-out action movie as there is in the Potter series. Harry's Horcrux hunt (say that three times fast!) takes up much of the movie leading up to some major revelations, an existential train station scene and a heartwarming conclusion, but along the way it's an exciting ride. A small quibble though. What did you think of the 3D? It didn't add much to the experience for me.

MB: The best thing I can say about the 3D is that it was unobtrusive, letting us pay attention to the complex plotting. But I think the movie, unlike most in the series, doesn't work as a standalone film. It would make little sense if you haven't seen the last few installments. And fans of Ralph Fiennes' Voldemort won't be disappointed — he's as creepy a villain as you can imagine, with lots of screen time. By the way, I did try saying Harry's Horcrux Hunt and was kicked out of the restaurant I was in.

RC: I thought Alan Rickman stole the show. He has the creepiest vocal tics since Boris Karloff and really brought something to a character that could have been one note. And you're right, it isn't a standalone, but it doesn't have to be. Harry Potter has stood at the centre of popular culture for the last decade. The franchise is the thing, not just the one picture.

MB: In which case, I ask you, Richard, which were your favourites? Mine were the first three, when the world of Hogwarts was at its most innocent, and this one, with its brisk pace and brutal efficiency.

RC: I have to tell you, I think the new one is the best of the bunch!

Don't call it a rom-com

Actors Justin Timberlake, Mila Kunis say their new film Friends with Benefits is more of a buddy comedy

NED EHRBAR
MWN IN HOLLYWOOD

Justin Timberlake and Mila Kunis want people talking about their new movie, Friends with Benefits. Just don't call it a romantic comedy.

"We always thought of it more as comedy than a romantic comedy," says Kunis. "If anything, it was a two-hander — a buddy comedy with a little romance in it. Because you care about the characters and you watch the characters fall in love, but it's not your stereotypical romantic comedy."

Timberlake is on the same page about the film, about two love-weary friends who embark on a sexual relationship without all that messy romance stuff. "I don't know that we've ever treated it like a romantic comedy or a slacker comedy. To me, funny is funny and not funny is not funny," he says. "And so we just wanted to find the funny in all these situations, and that's how we treated this."

Friends with Benefits marks a major milestone for both Timberlake and Kunis, as it's the first time either has top-lined a film, though they've both received positive reviews for supporting turns in the Social Network and Bad Teacher in Timberlake's case, and Black Swan and Forgetting Sarah Marshall in Kunis'.

Still, taking the lead has to come with new pressures, but Timberlake insists they're quickly pushed aside. "We deal with those demons before we sign contracts. After you commit to the movie, you have to let all that stuff go," he says, though he admits having Kunis along for the ride was a huge help.

"That was a little bit of a comfort, knowing that you were going to be sharing the bill and the comedy and the whole movie with a counterpart," he adds. "There's never a moment in this movie where it's just one of us out there by ourselves."

If the premise of Friends with Benefits sounds more than a little familiar, that's because it's not the first movie this year to tackle the idea of pals hooking up. Natalie Portman and Ashton Kutcher gave it a go in January with No Strings Attached.

Kunis, though, doesn't think audiences will worry about a sense of deja vu. "I think that movies are movies, and there's only so many original stories to be told in the world, and that's the truth," she says. "There's what, like, seven different stories."

Winnie the Pooh
Genre: Family
Director: Stephen Anderson, Don Hall

Pooh Bear's latest big-screen adventure, simply titled Winnie the Pooh, goes back to the source for its inspiration, weaving together six chapters of Milne's stories to form one satisfying whole.

Directors Stephen Anderson and Don Hall have wisely updated the story — the pace is snappier than the classic 1960's cartoons — but kept the elements that have made Pooh an indispensable character for the under-10 crowd. The gentle humour is in place, along with the beautiful watercolour backgrounds and the voices so connected to the series (they're done by different people now, but are true to the style established by Walt Disney himself).

Pattinson fans turn to Internet for stalking tips

THE CANADIAN PRESS/PETER KRAMER

For many of Robert Pattinson's most ardent Canadian fans, the summer of 2011 is better known as hunting season.

With the British heartthrob based in Toronto for his shoot on the David Cronenberg thriller Cosmopolis, devotees have been in a frenzy trying to suss out what they can about his comings and goings.

The Twilight star, who typically draws hundreds of squealing fans to red carpet appearances and fan conventions, arrived in town several weeks ago to star in the big screen adaptation of the Don DeLillo novel.

"I just want to see him ... a glimpse of him would send me off to heaven," a fan who identifies herself as Myra Munir wrote in an online plea for information at the website On Location Vacations.

Those looking for tips on where to stalk stars usually go online, where it's become increasingly easy to find details on celebrity work schedules, party hangouts and even accommodations, says security expert Adrianne Fekete-Romanick.

"There's so many blogs and interactive websites and social networks that give you so much information, very little is kept private these days," says Fekete-Romanick, director and owner of Star Quality Enterprises, which handles security for Toronto film shoots.

Most filming for Cosmopolis has taken place undercover at an east-end studio. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Actress-singer Zooey Deschanel tries to satisfy kids, parents with her new music, new role on Fox

When Zooey Deschanel was a little girl, she listened to children's music by Harry Nilsson, Carole King and others — and those songs remain on her playlist today.

So when the actress and She & Him singer was tapped to write the closing song for the new Winnie the Pooh movie, she sought to set that same kind of standard for her tune.

The 31-year-old is known for her quirky performances in films including (500) Days of Summer and Elf, as well as her musical career with M. Ward as part of the retro, folky-pop duo of She & Him.

Though considered left of the mainstream, she has a chance to connect with the masses this fall on The New Girl, a Fox TV comedy.

Deschanel talked with The Associated Press about all things Winnie the Pooh, her new series and her next role.

Were you a big Winnie the Pooh fan?

I was. I feel like if you asked me when I first heard of Winnie the Pooh, I don't remember, because it's so much a part of my childhood. ... I feel like it would be weird if I didn't love Winnie the Pooh.

Is writing for movies different from what you do with She & Him because of all the visual elements?

As far as lyrically, you want to hit the point and hit the themes without being too specific, because if you're too specific, for me, No. 1, it's very unsubtle. You have to walk a line lyrically ... I want it to feel like the movie without it being about the movie. You take the themes into account, but you're not telling them what happens in the movie. They just saw the movie, they don't need to be told what happened.

DAN STEINBERG/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

▶ Zooey Deschanel wrote the closing song for the film, which opens in theatres on July 15

Are you excited about jumping into television?

I am. ... When I got the script, I thought, well, you know, it's so rare, just even in the world of movies, to get a really great role, and to get a great role that I get to like, play for a long time, is so exciting, and I feel like, I just don't get these kind of roles.

Has your sister Emily (who stars in Fox's Bones) given you any advice about the world of television?

Yeah, she's been really great and really generous about offering me advice, and we're on the same network, so she knows everybody involved and everything, so she's been a really great person to talk to in the whole experience.

WILL U2 EVER BE ABLE TO TOP U2?

SOUND CHECK

ALAN CROSS
SCENE
@METRONEWS.CA

As I stood watching U2 play the 105th of 111 shows on their 360 Tour, all I kept thinking was "Now what?"

No tour has sold more tickets or grossed this much money. Every single show throughout the seven legs has sold out — this despite a million tickets having been thrown into disarray by Bono's back injury last year. By the time it comes to an end in Moncton, on the 30th, the total box office take will be somewhere around $700 million.

So I ask again: Now what? Everyone in the industry that I've heard from —including the mysterious Arthur Foegel of Live Nation, the Canadian mastermind behind this tour and mega-tours by Madonna, the Police, David Bowie and other superstars — acknowledges that there isn't another act on the planet capable of duplicating what U2 has done. Even the U2 organization itself can't imagine anything bigger or more successful.

Why? After 35 years, U2 remains a working rock 'n' roll band that still can release albums and have them go platinum around the world. There's just not another act with U2's musical firepower or financial backing. There isn't another band capable of raising the start-up capital for staging a tour as big as 360. U2 and their people had to spend upwards of $150 million before a single ticket was sold.

In the current musical environment, I can't see anyone ever outdoing this U2 tour. The Rolling Stones? They might come close, but they'd have to play more shows — and at their ages, that would be tough.

I may just have to fly to Moncton to see that final show. Not because I want to see U2 again but because once the lights go down at the end of the set, I fear that we will never, ever see the likes of a rock 'n' roll show on this scale ever again.

Actress gets permission from Bloom to name the baby after her first love

Miranda Kerr named her and Orlando Bloom's son in part after a deceased ex-boyfriend, she tells Australia's Daily Telegraph.

One of baby Flynn's middle names, Christopher, was chosen in honour of Kerr's first boyfriend, Christopher Middlebrook, who died in a car accident as a teenager.

"Chris and I had been dating for two years," she says. "After he died, I wrote him a letter that said I hoped to name my first child after him in some way. I told Orlando and he was the one who said he'd be happy to do that. Orlando's a good guy."

The baby's full name is Flynn Christopher Blanchard Copeland Bloom.

Wilde reeling from divorce

Despite being linked to a number of Hollywood bachelors, Olivia Wilde says she's happy spending some time alone after her divorce from Italian prince Tao Ruspoli.

In fact, she's having a tough time moving on.

"The trauma of the whole thing has been humbling, and for the first time, I'm a little bit wobbly," Wilde tells Marie Claire.

"But I think it's very healthy to spend time alone. You need to know how to be alone and not be defined by another person."

A real life Black Swan moment?

Lindsay Lohan was reportedly miffed about not being offered Natalie Portman's role in Black Swan, according to a profile in Plum magazine.

Writer Jacquelynn Powers reports that Lohan boasted that she "took ballet until she was 19 and was indignant that she was not considered for the movie."

SETTLING BEEFS. While Hugh Grant was originally motivated to expose the News of the World phone-hacking scandal because he himself had been hacked, he says a larger sense of outrage quickly took over, according to People magazine.

"I don't think I would be on a crusade if it weren't for the fact that they were winked at by the police, and winked at by our government," Grant says in a lengthy interview with the magazine.

"Although a lot of my stuff comes from personal grievance, I also am properly outraged for my country." METRO

GETTING COSY. Less two weeks after their divorce had been finalized, exes Scarlett Johansson and Ryan Reynolds were spotted enjoying a cosy night out at an L.A. restaurant, according to People magazine.

"They were leaning in closely to each other when talking. They were being flirty," a source says.

The amicable dinner date comes amid rumors that Reynolds has been quietly dating Charlize Theron for months.

Ideal grilling season grapes

PETER ROCKWELL
LIQUIDASSETS@EASTLINK.CA

Though I don't work magic in the kitchen as much as I used to, I'm still a cookbook fan. Culinary text and images never fail to inspire me to nag my wife to recreate whatever catches my eye.

One of my favourite recent releases is Jeff Potter's Cooking For Geeks (O'Reilly, $43.99): A macho tome that reads more like an issue of Popular Science than an artsy Gordon Ramsay creation.

Potter takes the MythBusters route by explaining the ins and out of everything from baking bread to making things melt in weird ways in what ends up as a fascinating read. But experimenting with Potter may have to wait until after barbecue season: The few months when I can hold up my end of meal creation.

One of my fave grilling grapes is zinfandel and the 2008 Gnarly Head Old Vine Zin ($16.95 - $19.99) is a mocha-meets-deep berry wonder that rocks everything from cuts of beef to burgers. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS CANADA. SOME PRODUCTS MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE IN ALL PROVINCES.

Grill Japanese dishes like the pros

From Classic Yakitori to steak, seafood & veggies, Tadashi Ono and Harris Salat spotlight contemporary & authentic dishes in The Japanese Grill

BOTH PHOTOS: TODD COLEMAN (2011)

▶ This recipe makes four servings.

These Pork Chops with Yuzu-Miso Marinade are marinated in miso overnight for two reasons. First, it takes time for the pork to absorb the miso flavour. Second, it gives the active bacteria culture in miso time to tenderize the meat. The result is tender, lip-smacking chops with a pleasing touch of heat from yuzu kosho.

Preparation:

1. Mix miso, sake, mirin, yuzu kosho, scallions, and sesame oil in bowl to make marinade. Pour three-fourths of marinade into baking dish or rimmed sheet pan and reserve rest. Lay pork chops in marinade and flip 4 times to generously coat. Marinate for 12 hours.
2. Preheat grill to a two-zone fire (medium and hot). Start grilling on hot heat for about 1 minute, shift the chops to medium heat. After about 4 minutes, flip and repeat the two-zone grilling on the other side. 10 mins total.
3. When the pork is ready, it'll be glossy and juicy on the outside. Let chops rest for 2 minutes and serve. REPRINTED WITH PERMISSION FROM THE JAPANESE GRILL: FROM CLASSIC YAKITORI TO STEAK SEAFOOD AND VEGETABLES BY TADASHI ONO AND HARRIS SALAT (TEN SPEED PRESS, A DIVISION OF RANDOM HOUSE INC., 2011)

Ingredients:

- 1/4 cup red miso
- 1 tablespoon sake
- 1 tablespoon mirin
- 2 teaspoons red yuzu kosho
- 1/4 cup finely chopped scallions (white and green parts)
- 1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon sesame oil
- 4 bone-in pork chops (about 11/2 pounds)

Master the grill

Master the grill with tips and trade secrets.

1. Trim excess fat from meat before grilling to help reduce flare-ups.
2. Always brush barbecue sauce on food towards the end of cooking to prevent sugars from burning.
3. Never pierce meat with a fork to flip it on the grill. This releases juices making it less moist.

Prosecution botches Clemens' trial

Judge leaves question of a new trial for former all-star up in the air until September

Almost as soon as it began, former baseball star Roger Clemens' perjury trial ended Thursday — in a mistrial the judge blamed on prosecutors and said a "first-year law student" would have known to avoid.

U.S. District Judge Reggie Walton called a halt to the trial under way after prosecutors showed jurors evidence that he had ruled out — videotaped revelations that former teammate Andy Pettitte had said he'd told his wife Clemens confessed to using a drug.

Walton scolded prosecutors and said he couldn't let the former all-star pitcher face prison if convicted on such "extremely prejudicial" evidence.

"Mr. Clemens has to get a fair trial," Walton said. "In my view, he can't get it now."

Defence lawyer Rusty Hardin, who had asked for the mistrial declaration, patted an unsmiling Clemens on the back as the judge announced his decision. As he left the courthouse, Clemens did not comment but accepted hugs from a couple of court workers, shook hands with the security guards and autographed baseballs for fans waiting outside.

"Government counsel should have been more cautious."

U.S. DISTRICT JUDGE REGGIE WALTON

Walton said he would hold a hearing Sept. 2 to decide whether Clemens should face another trial. Hardin told reporters, "I wouldn't even hazard a guess" about what Walton will decide.

Walton could end the prosecution by declaring that a new trial would run afoul of double jeopardy — the right not to be brought to trial twice on the same charges for the same offence. But experts said it was unlikely that he would go that far, especially since the trial was just under way.

Pettitte had told committee investigators that Clemens confessed in 1999 or 2000 that he used human growth hormone.

Calvillo's greatness becoming unquestionable

CFL EXTRA POINTS

DAN TOTH
WINNIPEG@METRONEWS.CA

The debate over Anthony Calvillo's place in CFL history has started, even though the sensational quarterback is a long way from finished.

Detractors argue that although A.C.'s career numbers make him appear to be the best QB in CFL history, the Als star is just a capable player who profits from playing on great teams.

Plenty of CFL followers will tell you Calvillo's not as talented as Doug Flutie, Ron Lancaster, Jeff Garcia, Warren Moon, etc.

The 39-year-old Calvillo last week tied Damon Allen's all-time CFL record of 394 touchdown passes when he threw for five majors in Montreal's win over Saskatchewan.

While Calvillo might not be your first choice if you were starting an expansion team, he's more than just a decent QB who was lucky to land with a great franchise.

Not only does Calvillo own three Grey Cup rings with the Als, he's also on course to establishing a new record for career passing yards before season's end. And don't be surprised if he caps that off with a fourth Grey Cup ring.

Dunigan's head still in the game: Not long ago, a player suffering a mild concussion was said to have "had his bell rung" and would often return to the game with little consideration for future effects.

Recent advances in science and a more humane approach to player health have made brain injury research a priority.

CRAIG KLEM/ALLSPORT

▶ Anthony Calvillo, shown here during the 2000 Grey Cup, has been consistent throughout his career. Now he's challenging for some of the CFL's most coveted records.

CFL Hall of Famer Matt Dunigan sat down with the CFL on TSN's Brian Williams last week to reveal his own personal fight with head injuries and post-concussion syndrome and how concussions have affected his life.

Despite retiring 15 years ago, Dunigan is still affected by the dozen concussions he suffered during his stellar career.

Dunigan will donate his brain to concussion research in hopes that "they'll be able to advance the science and understanding of concussions and brain injuries to help others."

Toothless Lions: B.C. Lions head coach/general manager Wally Buono said it best.

"It's very ugly," he said. "It's sickening."

Buono was referring to the video of Lions DB Stanley Franks' gruesome knee injury, but he could have just as easily been talking about the Leo's 0-2 start to the CFL season.

Franks was taken off the field on a cart, and the initial diagnosis is a severe dislocation of the knee. Now Buono has another headache. In addition to his team's slow start, Buono now has to make adjustments in his secondary when the 0-2 Lions face Ricky Ray and the 2-0 Edmonton Eskimos Saturday at Commonwealth Stadium.

Amateur leads pack at British Open

Lewis first amateur to lead round at a major since 1976 ◐ 'He could be my grandson,' says playing partner Watson

Tom Lewis shares a name with one of the British Open's greatest champions.

The kid sure lived up to it Thursday.

Lewis, a 20-year-old amateur, shot a 5-under 65 to share the lead after the opening round of golf's oldest major — a day that was even more special because he played alongside the man he was named after: five-time British Open champion Tom Watson.

"I was more nervous not to embarrass myself in front of him," Lewis said.

No worries there. Lewis pulled off some Watson-like shots at Royal St. George's, making four straight birdies coming down the stretch before a par-saving tap-in at the 18th left him tied with Thomas Bjorn.

PETER MORRISON/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

▶ England's Tom Lewis shoots out of the bunker on the 6th hole on Thursday.

"I just had to smile inside watching him play," said the 61-year-old Watson, who needed seven more strokes than his namesake to get around the course.

"I didn't play particularly well myself, but I certainly was impressed by the way he played."

Lewis's late-afternoon charge was definitely impressive, but it didn't totally overshadow an early-morning round by Bjorn, who was playing at this course on the English seaside for the first time since his meltdown in the 2003 Open.

Amateur elite

Tom Lewis posted the lowest round ever for an amateur at the British Open.

▶ His score of 65 beats the 66s posted by Frank Stranahan in 1950, Tiger Woods' in 1996 and Justin Rose in 1998.

That year he threw away a two-stroke lead on the final three holes — he needed three swings just to escape the bunker at No. 16 — and allowed Ben Curtis to snatch away the claret jug with one of the sport's most shocking upsets.

Two very different players.

Two hugely compelling stories atop the leaderboard.

"I'm 40 years old," Bjorn said, "and there might just be a little bit more in me."

U.S. Open champion Rory McIlroy got off to a sluggish start but was still in the mix, putting up a 71 that left him six strokes back.

Considering he played in the morning, when conditions were tougher, McIlroy had no complaints about a round that began with two bogeys on the first three holes.

"It was a day where you just needed to grind out a score," McIlroy said. "Anywhere around even par was a good start."

In the afternoon, the gusting breezes off the Strait of Dover died down and the rain held off, resulting in about twice as many rounds in the 60s as the morning starters put up. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kia the best deal for Winnipeggers

Change is not always convenient. Winnipeggers often navigate through detours and one-lane traffic during construction season, watching as their money gets put to good use to improve their driving experience. And smart Winnipeg drivers are already finding out how to drive their money further, by sitting comfortably behind the wheel of Kia.

Birchwood Kia on Regent quickly grew into the largest growing dealership in Manitoba, something Sales Manager Rylie Saunders says is all thanks to positive change and a great team. Saunders, along with General Manager Shayne Rankin and Sales Manager Derek Witty, all joined the Birchwood Kia team within the last year.

"We pride ourselves in that we're not 'old school' salespeople," says Saunders. "I think a lot of people notice that right when they first speak to us. We're specific to customer service, and we create a different experience from what people are used to and what they expect."

"We create a different experience from what people are used to and what they expect."

The Regent Avenue West dealership managed to breathe new life into its sales strategy, while also offering affordable prices drivers can only find locally at Birchwood Kia. With zero per cent financing on every 2011 model and options like heated seats and Bluetooth, it's a welcome fit for drivers who are new to the Kia brand.

"Any Kia car suits the Winnipeg consumer," says Saunders. "It's affordable, but still has a lot of options, and a five-year bumper-to-bumper warranty that's unheard of in this industry. You can get our vehicle with the lowest payments, the most options and the best warranty."

Birchwood Kia sells the 2012 Kia Sorento at lower payments than competitor's 2011 "blow-outs" with more options and warranties. It also offers the Kia Forte, which grew to become the top-rated car in its class.

"We've implemented all these changes to try to become more progressive," says Saunders. "People will be pleasantly surprised once they come in. They might not be used to the Kia brand, but interested to see what all the hype is about. It is different, but in a positive way."
